Eleanor Emberson
 Quick question - what is the collective noun for peafowl? A group of them were having some kind of picnic on the lawn this evening. We have ducks and chickens, too, but they are quieter.

Bruce will likely post about cycling but I just have to do my stunned grin and say that I made it all the way round Arran today by bike. I never, ever thought I would manage that. Huge thanks to the Andy, Jeannie, Hugh and all the Lifecycle instructors and to Izzy Joiner for everything. Funny to cycle past my old high school and realise that I am fitter now than I was then. — with Bruce Ryan at Kilmichael Country House Hotel.

-  Richard Laing Well done, really impressed, no idea what the correct collective noun is though, perhaps a noise of peafowl would be appropriate?

-  Al Macdonald Very impressed also. Did you get to ditch the luggage?

-  Jill Mansfield I believe a group of peacocks is either a muster or an ostentation 😊

 Heather Jones Fantastic. It's a great thing to do, and not something I think I've done all in one go. Respect!

 Eleanor Emberson Turns out that one of the options is an 'ostentation' of peacocks. I like that. Yes, Al, we did leave the luggage behind yesterday. It felt good!
